

TRICKY PHISHING TEMPLATES

April Edition!

Wizer

The Unwanted Transfer

From: Verizon

Subject: Your transfer is nearly complete

---

verizon✓

Your request to transfer your number has been successful!

If you want to make any changes, or cancel the transfer process, you can do that below.

Cancel Transfer

As with many phish, the ability to rectify the problem is dangling there, encouraging an instinctive click

Security Alert Panic

From: Mozilla

Subject: Unknown Sign-in

---

moz://a

Security Alert

Your Mozilla account was used to sign in just now:

Android 8.1.0 Chrome/9D91CF2174

Not you?

A phishing email will never be you! That's why you're primed to act

Secure Account Now

Too Good to be True?

From: Grubhub

Subject: 80% off your next order!

---

GRUBHUB

80% is the nearest to being 'free' while also remaining believable

Get 80% off your next order!

Add this awesome offer to your account while it lasts!

Activate Offer

The Mystery Verification

From: LinkedIn

Subject: Your ID has been accepted

LinkedIn

Would you want an unexpected 'ID' added to your account?

Your ID has been accepted, your account is now verified!

If you want to unlink your verification at any stage,
please use the unique link below.

Unlink Verification

AI Flattery Trap

From: Gemini

Subject: Have we got this correct?

Could you read this and not be curious about the context?!

Our AI answers mentioned you

It's great to be popular!

But we want to check we have the facts correct.

Please read this reply, and make any necessary corrections.

Verify Info

Stay wizer

Security Awareness Training & Phishing Simulation

wizer-training.com

